

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

WARREN OF VIRGINIA AND MARYLAND.

The alleged descent of Richard Warren, the Puritan, of "Mayflower" fame, from John Warren, died 1525, son and heir of William, of Covern-ton, Nottinghamshire, second son of Sir Lawrence Warren, of Poynton, Cheshire, and ante 1475, has been many times refuted by genealogists and repudiated by descendants of the "Puritan Father," in spite of Dr. Warren's handsome book on the subject, therefore the connection of the Puritan with the ancient Earls of Warren and Surrey has not been established, as no other descent has been substituted for the above.

The Warrens of Virginia and Maryland are more fortunate in their genealogy, and can trace their ancestry through the Warrens of Poynton to the Earl of Warren, which pedigree was printed in two large volumes in the last century, by Rev. Dr. Watson, on the occasion of Warren of Poynton presenting his claim to descent from the Earls, before Parliament. Therein can be found mention, copied from the Warren family papers, of the earliest Virginia and Maryland Warren's progenitors, I am sure of several generations of Warrens in this country.

Sir Edward Warren, Knight, of Poynton, Baron of Stockport, born 1563, died 1609. High Sheriff of Cheshire, knighted in 1599 while serving in the Irish wars, who was sixteenth in lineal descent from William de Warren, second Earl of Surrey, died 1138, according to Watson's "Ancient Earls of Warren and Surrey and their Descendants," was the immediate progenitor of several early Virginians. Sir Edward had no issue by his first wife, a daughter of Sir Edward Fitton, and married secondly, circa, 1581, Anne, daughter of Sir William Davenport, of Bromall. His fifth child by this marriage was William Warren, who was in Virginia between 1633 and 1640. I have no other information of him. Sir Edward's son and heir, John Warren, of Poynton Manor, Cheshire, died 20th June, 1621; had a son John, baptised in August, 1606, who in 1642 was living in St. Mary's county, Maryland and was killed in 1644 by Capt. Thomas Cornwallis and party, in Maryland; I have no information that he had issue. John Warren, of Poynton, who died 1621, had as son and heir, Edward Warren, of Poynton, born 1605, died 1667, whose third son was Colonel Humphrey Warren, born 7th June, 1632, a planter in Charles county, Maryland, 1666, and in 1689 was appointed one of the Justices of the Quorum and Coroner, and commander of the troops of Charles county, and was a signer of the celebrated "Remonstrance" of the Maryland colonists, dated 27th March, 1689. Colonel Humphrey's will, on file at Annapolis, is dated 14th August, 1689, proved 25th February, 1694-5. He names his sons Notley, Benjamin, Charles, John and Humphrey; his wife Margery, and divides about 800 acres of Charles county land between them. He refers to a legacy from "the Hon'ble Thomas Notley" to his son Notley Warren. Thomas Notley, gent., was a Burgess and a member of the Lower House of Maryland and an attorney at law; will proved 3d April, 1679. What was his relationship to, or interest in Notley Warren, I do not know. Nor have I any information as to whether or not Colonel Humphrey Warren's children had issue, excepting in the case of his son, John Warren, gent., of Charles county, whose will was proved 13th February, 1713-14, but he names only two daughters, Mary and Ann, and his wife Judith.

The aforesaid Sir Edward Warren, of Poynton, married, thirdly, 1597-8, Susan, born 1577, died 1636, daughter of Sir William Booth, of Dunham-Massey, and had by her Lieutenant Radcliffe Warren, who was unfortunately killed in Claiborne's raid on the Isle of Kent in 1635 (I have no knowledge of his issue, if any), and Thomas Warren, some of whose descendants for several generations are traced by their wills and realty transactions. In 1735 he patented 300 acres of land in Charles City county, Va.—150 acres in right of his wife, Susan Greenleaf, widow of Robert Greenleaf, "an ancient planter," and 150 acres for the personal adventure of himself and two servants. He was a Burgess both in James City county and in Surry county as late as 1666. He had as second wife, marriage contract dated 25th September, 1654, Elizabeth, widow of Major Robert Sheppard, of Lower Chipoaks. He had sons, John, Richard and Thomas, but by which wife they were is not in evidence. The son, Thomas Warren, Jr., lived in Isle of Kent, Md. (as did also his brother, Richard), and was a planter, having a farm, seat or manor called "Poynton," after the ancestral seat in Cheshire, and was Lieutenant of the county company of soldiers. His will, dated 19th December, 1684, proved 28th March, 1685, names his wife as "Elizabeth," but in Barton pedigrees she is called "Sarah." She was a daughter of Captain William Barton, of Charles county, High Sheriff, Justice, and one named in the "List of Good, Honest, Substantial Protestants in Maryland."

Lieutenant Thomas and Elizabeth Warren had several children, among them Thomas, heir, of Charles county. He was a planter, and lived on his plantation called "Frailty." His will, dated 6th January, 1705-6, proved 23d November, 1710, gives "Frailty" to his wife, Jane, and 300 acres of land to son, Thomas; mentions son, Barton, under age, and several daughters, and that his wife was with child. This minor son, Barton Warren, of Charles county, planter, lived to inherit a portion of "Frailty," and by his will, proved 9th March, 1757-8, divided a considerable estate among his sons, Notley, John, William Barton, Edward and Robert, Mary Musgrove, Jane Hungerford and Susannah. This Robert Warren, of Charles county, born 1720, married and removed late in life to Tennessee. One of his children, Mary Warren, married John Stone, of Charles county, planter, born 1748, died 1776, who was a son of Thomas Stone, Jr., of Charles county (a brother of David Stone, of "Poynton," the father of Thomas Stone, of Charles county, a Signer of the Declaration of Independence), a son of Thomas Stone, of "Poynton," Charles county, Md. (a grandson of Captain William Stone, first Protestant Governor of the Province of Maryland, 1648), and his wife, Elizabeth Warren, one of the daughters of the aforesaid Lieutenant Thomas Warren, Jr., of Charles county, who died in 1684.

One of the children of John and Mary Stone, of Charles county, aforesaid, was the Rev. Barton Warren Stone, a celebrated preacher, whose life has been published in book form, born in Charles county, 1772, died at Hannibal, Mo., in 1844. His wife was Elizabeth, daughter of William Campbell, a captain in 1st Regiment, Virginia Line, 1779, a first cousin of Brigadier-General William Campbell, the hero of the Battle of King's Mountain, who was the first husband of Elizabeth Henry, a sister of Patrick Henry, Governor of Virginia. The third daughter of the Rev. Mr. Stone, Mary Ann Harrison Stone, married, 1821, Captain Charles Chilton Moore, of "Forest Retreat," Fayette county, Ky., who served with distinction in the War of 1812. He was a son of William Moore, of Culpeper county, Va., 1753-1818, a Lieutenant in 3d Regiment, Virginia Line, a son of Samuel Moore, planter, of Charles county, Md., and his wife, Charity (widow of Samuel Adams, planter, of Charles county, died 1748), daughter of Colonel John Courts, of the manor of "Clean Drinking," in Charles (now in Montgomery) county, Md., died 1747.

Colonel Courts was of the family of Courts or Courte, of Stoke-Gregory, in Somerset. The founder of the Maryland branch was "the Honorable Captain John Courte, gent.," who was Burgess and member of the Maryland Assembly, and member of the Governor's Council till his death in 1697. His son, Colonel John Courts, gent., was, in 1699, granted the manor of Clean Drinking (now owned by his descendant, Colonel Jones), and, after serving in many public Charles county offices, died 1702, having issue the aforesaid Colonel John Courts, who died 1747. Some of his descendants in the South write their surname as it is pronounced, COATES. The wife of the aforesaid Captain William Campbell was Tabitha, 1764-1806, second daughter of Brigadier-General William Russell, of Culpeper county, Va., and of "Aspenvale," Washington county, Va., Colonel of 13th Regiment, Virginia Line, and first Wagon Master General of the Army, so appointed when a delegate at the Convention at Williamsburg, 1775. General Russell's first wife was Tabitha, died 1776, a daughter of the aforesaid Samuel Adams and his wife, Charity Courts aforesaid. His second wife was Elizabeth Henry, 1749-1825, sister of Governor Patrick Henry and widow of the aforesaid General William Campbell. General Russell was the son and heir of Lieutenant-Colonel William Russell, gent., of Orange and Culpeper counties, 1679-1757, High Sheriff and Justice Peace, son of Peter Russell, planter, of Orange county, died 1746, and his wife, Sarah. Will proved 20th October, 1757. (See William Russell and his Descendants, by Mrs. des Cognets.) Until recently it was supposed that Lieutenant-

Colonel William Russell—he served in the frontier wars in Virginia—was the founder of the Russell family; but now it is known his parentage was as here stated, and it is believed that his father came from Maryland. In my enthusiasm in mentioning some of the distinguished men of this pedigree I have wandered from my original theme, the Warrens of Virginia and Maryland; but I believe I will be forgiven by genealogists, as I have stated a few facts which should be properly preserved in a magazine of genealogy.

C. H. B.

THE WYNNE OR WINN FAMILY.

The first of whom I have any account in Virginia was MINOR¹ who came to Virginia from Wales about the time settlements began to extend up and spread out from the Potomac to the Rappahannock. He settled in Fauquier county, accumulated a handsome fortune, and died about 1771 or 1772. After two visits to Kentucky, he purchased from the State of Virginia large and valuable tracts of land, records of which are in the clerk's office in Fayette county, Kentucky. Minor left five sons and three daughters, John,² the oldest, Minor,³ William,⁴ James,⁵ Richard,⁶ the youngest, and three daughters.⁷

MINOR³ remained in Virginia, possessed himself of his father's entire real estate, lived to a good old age and died in Loudoun county. He left a large family of sons and daughters. The sons were improvident; the daughters married respectable farmers, one married Moses Gibson, of Rappahannock county; one William Gibson, of Fauquier, and two married Neals, one of Clarksburg, from which family came Stonewall Jackson, and the other of Parkersburg, from which came Gen. Lucius Fairchild, once Minister to Spain. Two daughters married Singletons, one of whom moved to Kentucky and settled near Paducah, from whom descended the Hon. Otho R. Singleton, of Mississippi, and the other resided near Winchester, from whom descended the Hon. Washington G. Singleton, for some years the United States District Attorney. One daughter married a Simpson and lived near Gallipolis, Ohio. Another married O'Bannon, of Kentucky. A son of this union married a Miss Todd, a first cousin of Mrs. Abraham Lincoln, and with her the future Mrs. Lincoln lived until a short time before her marriage.

WILLIAM⁴ moved to South Carolina before his father's death. He married Rosa Hampton, aunt of General Wade Hampton—one daughter married Broughton (?); another, Robert Stark; another, John Hampton; another, Dr. John Hughes, and Rebecca ———, and Susan ———.

JAMES⁵ went to Kentucky at an early day and settled at the falls of Ohio (now Louisville). He had a large family of children, two of whom settled near Natchez, Miss. One daughter married a Mr. Roberts; an-